CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

The name by which this Institution shall be known is
"ST. LUKE'S HOME FOR INDIGENT CHRISTIAN FEMALES."

ARTICLE II.

The object of the Institution is to provide for the temporal and spiritual welfare of the inmates, in accordance with the ministration of the Gospel in the Protestant Episcopal Church.

ARTICLE III.

The Board of Managers shall consist of not less than seven, nor more than twenty-one, Clergymen and Laymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the city of New York. The Officers of the Board shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer. These Officers of the Board shall also be the Officers of the Institution. The Vice-President shall be Rector of the Institution, and Chairman of the Board, in the absence of the President.

ARTICLE IV.

No debt shall be contracted by the Institution beyond the reliable means secured.

ARTICLE V.

There shall be annually a meeting of its members, in the city of New York, on the Festival of St. Luke the Evangelist, at which time the proceedings of the past year shall be presented, and the Board of Managers for the ensuing year be elected ; and the Board shall have the power to fill its own vacancies during the year.

ARTICLE VI.

Meetings of the Board of Managers may be called by the President or Rector, on an application, in writing, by any two members of the Board; of which meeting all its members shall be duly notified. Five members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE VII.

All funds of and contributions to the Institution shall be appropriated by the Board of Managers, in such manner as the By-Laws and resolutions of the Society may direct; and to the Board of Managers shall be committed the care and transaction of the entire business of the Institution.

ARTICLE VIII.

Any member of the Protestant Episcopal Church, paying into the treasury a sum annually not less than $5, shall be a member of this Society. The payment at any one time of $50 shall constitute a life member; and $100 shall constitute a PATRON of the Society.

ARTICLE IX.

The religious instruction of the Institution shall be conducted in conformity with the Doctrines, Discipline, and Worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States; and shall be under the superintendence of the Bishop of the Diocese of New York, and of the clerical members of the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE X.

The internal government of the Home shall be conducted by Associate Managers, approved by the Board of Managers, and formed of ladies of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the city of New York, representing the various parishes, respectively, of which they are members. The Associate Managers may appoint their own officers and committees, but shall report their proceedings to the Board of Managers for their sanction, and furnish to the Treasurer an account of all their receipts and expenditures, and present the bills for payment, duly signed, in accordance with the requirements of the By-Laws.

ARTICLE XI.

This Constitution may be altered at any annual meeting, by a majority of the members present.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

No beneficiary shall be received into this Institution from any church in this city not represented in this Board and contributing to the support of the Home.

The Committee on Applications shall record the name and address of each applicant. When a vacancy occurs, all the candidates shall be examined, and the most necessitous and worthy be admitted. A majority of the Committee shall be empowered to act upon an application.

Applicants for admission shall present themselves at the Home, at appointed times, before the Committee, who shall afterwards visit them in their own homes.

All applicants must bring satisfactory testimonials of good conduct and respectability; must have resided three years in the city; must have been for one year a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

An entrance fee of fifty dollars, and thirty dollars for furnishing her apartment, is required for each beneficiary; and if she have property, must make it over to the Institution.

No beneficiary shall be admitted without a permit, signed by one of the Committee on Applications; nor shall any one be received until after the payment of the entrance fee, or some reliable person shall become responsible therefor. Before admission she shall sign a paper, consenting to abide by the rules. Any church or individual placing a beneficiary in this Institution shall be informed that she is received on probation, and may at any time be dismissed, should the Board decide that she has intentionally violated its rules. When such dismissal shall occur, the Secretary shall, if practicable, inform the church or individual of the action of the Board.

In case of an inmate leaving the Home, the entrance fee will not be returned. Her wearing apparel is her own property; but the furniture of the room, including the bedding, belongs to the Home.

On the admission of each inmate, her friends shall record on paper what clothing they will provide for her. She may not bring with her any article of furniture except a feather bed. As this Institution is unable to provide nurses, no beneficiary may be received who is blind, or unable to help herself.

On the death of an inmate, the Visiting Committee shall notify the managers of the parish from which she came, in order that they may inform the rector thereof. Any inmate of the Home proposing to visit her friends, must inform the matron with whom and how long she intends staying, that no anxiety may exist from her absence.

No spirituous liquors shall be brought into the Home, or drank by the inmates when out of it, unless prescribed by the physician and administered by the matron.

Every inmate, if able, is required to keep her own room neat and clean; in her turn to dust the parlor and assist in washing the breakfast things every day except Sunday.

The gas shall be lighted in the parlor, which, if agreeable to them, the inmates may occupy during the evening.

At half-past nine o'clock the gas in the second and third story halls shall be lowered as much as possible, and kept burning in that condition all night. At the same hour, the maid shall light the gas in each bedroom, which may burn half an hour, and must then be extinguished.

One of the inmates shall be appointed librarian. The key of the bookcase shall be given to the matron, who shall keep it in a place where it can always be found, should she not be in the house when it is wanted. The matron is required to ask a blessing before, and return thanks after, each meal; to take her meals with the inmates; to accompany them to church, and return home with them. She has the privilege of two weeks' vacation in the course of the year, if she desire it.

No visitors may be admitted on Sunday.

The managers shall collect the annual subscriptions from the first of January until Easter. All unpaid dues shall, after that date, be put into the hands of the collector. On Easter Tuesday the Associate Managers will hold an anniversary, to meet the friends of the Institution.

Each manager shall sign her own receipt for the treasurer.

Any manager who shall (without assigning any reason) absent herself from three successive meetings, shall be notified that she is expected to resign, in order that a more efficient person may be appointed in her place.

No strange physician shall practice in the Home, unless called in by the resident physician, or by the friends who placed the beneficiary in the Institution, who must then become responsible for the expense.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

A Christian Institution, like the Christian life, has its sides of light and shadow. The joy and gratitude for what is accomplished, are sensibly qualified by necessities developed, unreached or unrelieved. While we express our thanks that thirty-two inmates are enjoying the many comforts of this religious Home, we are pained to think there is but the accommodation of one vacant room for the many applicants for admission. Then, too, while through the unremitting exertions of the managers there has been for months, by God's blessing, no lack of the daily bread, though nothing for the morrow, yet, owing to the high price of provisions, it has been too difficult to meet the current expenses to encourage any great increase of liabilities. Yet five new inmates have been received. The future, however, is far from being overclouded. While thus administering to its daily maintenance, the friends of the Institution have been adding fresh assurances of their interest. The effort initiated by Mr. Minturn, not two years since, to raise $15,000 towards enlarged accommodations, has been entirely successful; but, owing to the greatly increased expense of building, this sum is far from adequate to the erection of a suitable edifice; and it is a question of immediate interest whether the present premises afford sufficient ground or the most promising location for a permanent situation for this general Church Charity of the Church in this city. Already has a constant and liberal benefactor, in anticipation of the need of ample grounds for the Home, kindly offered to donate about four acres of land, well situated, as a site for enlarged accommodations. This generous offer will soon require the mature deliberation of your managers. While the present location has many decided advantages, it may possibly derive still greater ones by availing of the proposed grant.

A very important revision of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Institution has been made by the Associate Managers. When fully matured, this revision may require a meeting of the members of the Institution before the next annual meeting.

Three legacies have been left the Home: one by its late President of the Associate Managers; one by Miss Barre, not, however, immediately available; and another by Miss Creemer.

It is earnestly hoped that these and other legacies with which the Home may be favored, may prove the foundation of an endowment.

A corporate seal for the Institution has been adopted, and its first use has been in relinquishing a portion of the present leasehold ground to the corporation of Trinity Church, on satisfactory considerations.

Though there has been considerable sickness, but one death has occurred—that of Mrs. Lockwood.

Valuable services have been continued by the attending physician, Dr. Brown.

Surgical aid has been kindly and efficiently rendered, in special cases, by Dr. Joseph Bluxome, and also by Dr. Knight, of the "N. Y. Society for the Relief of the Ruptured and Crippled."

The Matron has performed her varied duties with great satisfaction to the Board.

In conclusion, your Board would offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That when this meeting adjourn, it adjourn to meet at the call of the officers of the Institution.

St. Luke's Home for Indigent Christian Females, in Account Current with
